

PERSON-CENTERED PLANNING
SUPERVISORY TRAINING SERIES
PART 2
FALL 2007

TREATMENT PLAN FEEDBACK
Free Webcast with Neal Adams MD, MPH and Diane Grieder MEd

A free webcast consultation on person-centered treatment planning is available for those WNYCCP Provider organizations who have participated in past supervisory training with Neal Adams and Diane Grieder or those who are familiar with their book, Treatment Planning for Person-Centered Care.

HOW IT WORKS

Your organization sends examples of treatment plans you've developed to Neal and Diane in advance. During the webcast they review your organization's plans and offer specific feedback.

A typical session lasts two hours. During the webcast, your team can gather together in a conference room with a projection system or people can access the webcast individually by calling the conference number and viewing documents from their own computer. All participants will view the same example treatment plans online and be able to ask questions over the conference phone.

During the webcast you can consult with Neal and Diane on:

- Specific feedback on your person-centered assessments and plans
- Integrating stages of change and appropriate recovery interventions
- Documenting medical necessity
- Organizational readiness
- Tools for change
- Establishing a learning collaborative

The webcast format makes it easy to invite other groups or organizations to join and collaborate—to continue to explore best practices in person-centeredness.
